Wall Posters for the Life of Christ

A good teacher knows what he/she will be teaching today and in future classes. A better teacher will have students who know what they have learned, are about to learn and will learn in the future. The following pages will help you teach the stories about the life of Christ by providing a visual outline of the events, miracles and people that Jesus met.

Materials Needed
1. This document (printed).
2. Tape.

Instructions
1. Print all the pages of this document.
2. To create the banner, cut of 1/4 inch of paper from the right side of each banner piece. Tape all 8 sheets together. Use the edge of a straight table to help align the pieces correctly.
3. To create the subtitles, simply cut the title pages into thirds.
4. Arrange and fasten the papers on your classroom wall, grouping the pictures in their categories as shown in the photo here or the small diagrams on page two of this document.

The outline represents a series of lessons. Here are some suggestions for activities …

- Group similar stories into a single lesson ("Lost Things" for example. The sheep was Dangerously Lost, the silver was in the Darkness and the boy was lost by his own Decision).
- Act out the stories with students who may already know the story as actors.
- At the end of the unit, play a Jeopardy game with the three categories: Parables, Miracles, People He Met.
- Have the students create a list of all the things that Jesus had power over.
- Point out that salvation is a theme that seems to always appear in the stories. Salvation themes such as God’s Grace, Forgiveness, Patience, Man’s Helplessness, Hardness, are illustrated in many of the stories.
- Assign a verse to go with each story that the students memorize. For example, in Luke 19:10, we find the gospel message at the end of the story of Zacchaeus.
